Worst Damage In Montana's History Seen

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Eight persons are dead and at least 70 persons are reported missing today in the worst floods in Montana's history. Damage was in the millions of dollars.

Fed by days of heavy rain and a late-melting snowpack, streams and rivers swept down on a wide area of the state with tremendous force from mountains.

Four earthen dams and at least 25 bridges were swept away in the powerful torrents.

Near Valier, a community of 700 about 60 miles northwest of Great Falls, searchers slogged along Birch Creek looking for at least 70 persons believed missing.

Bruce Milne, superintendent of Valier schools, said search operations centered on a section of the creek hit by water from a broken dam.

Air Force helicopters moved into the Valier area to pluck a number of persons from perches on rooftops and in trees.

Milne said the confirmed death toll in Valier was one—a girl, about 8, named Bradley. He said her brother and mother were found on higher ground.

Other deaths reported included five Blackfoot Indians. Witnesses said they saw them swept away in a rampaging creek as they tried to board a pickup truck.

Two motorists died when their cars plunged into raging streams in the same general area of northwestern Montana.

Reports from the flood area were fragmentary. There were washed out bridges and inundated roads. One major highway was flooded in at least 11 different sections. Communications were down.

Police Warn Of Molesting Family Pets

Police have had several reports of attempts to poison or feed ground glass to dogs in recent weeks and Tuesday morning Patrolman Vic Phelps found hard evidence of such an attempt.

A woman who resides at a South Ohio avenue address reported the finding of a glass-laden hamburger patty and also some vandalism to her garden.

Officer Phelps said the glass-laden patty was found on the back porch where the woman normally ties her dog. Police are continuing their investigation.

Plants and flowers in the garden at the residence were pulled up.

Commenting in the wake of the ground glass incident, Chief of Police William Miller said such violators can be prosecuted under the terms of a state statute (560.380 RS Mo.) which makes the crime a graduated felony.

Penalty upon conviction can range up to three years in the penitentiary or not less than six months in the county jail, or by fine not less than $250 or by both a fine not less than $100 and imprisonment in the county jail not less than three months.

Miller said cases of any such violators would be prosecuted vigorously.

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—George John Gessner, 28, a nuclear weapons maintenance technician, was convicted today of giving restricted information to Russian agents and was immediately sentenced to life in prison.

The life sentence was recommended by the jury that received the case Monday afternoon. The jury of eight men and four women had the option of recommending a sentence of death or life imprisonment or to leave the sentence to the judge.

U.S. Dist. Judge Arthur J. Stanley pronounced sentence immediately.

Fight Over Unit Rule Not Likely

Seeming Accord As Republican State Convention Nears

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fights over the unit rule or an instructed national convention delegation from Missouri seem doubtful as the Republican state convention here draws near.

Except for the possibility of squabbles over the seating of 115 delegates from six St. Louis County townships and 18 from St. Charles County and the election of a GOP national committeeman, Friday's meeting will deal primarily with election of other national delegates and re-appointing party units.

Party leaders said they have heard of no efforts to impose the unit rule on the state delegation or to instruct the delegation to vote for a particular presidential candidate at the national convention.

They point out that of the 20 national convention delegates chosen in May, at least 16 are supporters of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater as presidential nominee.

Four other national delegates and their alternates will be elected at the convention. At least two delegates who probably will be chosen—U.S. Rep. Durward G. Hall of Springfield and state GOP Chairman Lem T. Jones Sr. of Kansas City—favor the Arizona senator.

Thus, a large majority of the Missouri delegation to the July national convention in San Francisco will be supporting Goldwater anyway.

Besides settling the seating squabble among convention delegates from St. Charles and St. Louis counties, the convention will select a new GOP national committeeman from Missouri.

Former U.S. Rep. Walter C. Ploster of St. Louis County seems to be favored for the post, but Princeton lumberman Levi Lowry, Mercer County GOP chairman, promises a good fight.

No Decision On Walker Investigation

PLATTE CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Platte County prosecutor said today it has not been decided whether charges will be filed against Andrew Jackson Walker, who is being questioned in Kansas City in the Biscoe murder investigation.

"The investigation is continuing," prosecutor R. P. C. Wilson said.

Walker, a 38-year-old ex-convict, was arraigned Monday afternoon on charges growing out of the robbery of two young women Saturday night. His bond was set at $30,000—$25,000 on one charge and $5,000 on the other.

Lt. Elza Hatfield of the Kansas City police said Walker is being questioned by the Metro squad which has been investigating the slayings of Mrs. Hatfield Biscoe, 83, and her 67-year-old daughter, Marion Biscoe. The two women were shot to death at nearby Smithville April 29.

Hatfield said Walker is the man who told detectives he was near the scene of the slayings that day. Walker denies complicity, Hatfield said.

Tighten Contest In GOP

Romney May Enter Picture As Candidate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan said today that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has urged him to offer a "clear choice" between moderate Republicans and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in the contest for the GOP presidential nomination.

Romney told a news conference after a closed-door discussion with Nixon at the 56th annual Governors' Conference that several other governors "have been urging me to become a candidate."

The Michigan chief executive said he would take this under consideration. Previously, he had said that he had committed himself to the voters of Michigan not to seek national office this year and could only accept a convention draft.

Any decision he makes will not be at variance with his previous commitments, Romney said.

The Michigan governor declined to name the state executives he said were urging him to take a more active role. Previously he had conferred with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania. He and his two colleagues said after that meeting that their discussion was limited to platform proposals.

Wounded In An Exchange Of Gunfire

Pettis County authorities were holding a 15-year-old juvenile boy Tuesday who they said burglarized a rural Sedalia home and then was wounded in an exchange of gunfire when the man pursued him into some woods north of the house.

The youth's name was not made public in accordance with a state statute which forbids release of the identity of such youthful offenders.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said the boy had been sought since 5:30 a.m. Tuesday when he was notified that the youth had run away. Fairfax and Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn said the youth has run away from home on numerous occasions previously.

About 9:45 a.m. Carl Johnson, Route 4, a postal employee who resides on Route B southwest of Sedalia, notified the sheriff's department that his home had been burglarized and a youth had been observed running out the rear of the house.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Coutts was dispatched to the Johnson home and his investigation brought forth this story.

Mr. Johnson apparently returned home just in time to catch the youth in the act of the burglary and saw him run out the back door.

Johnson immediately telephoned the sheriff's office and on investigation saw that a .22 target pistol and a .44-caliber rifle were missing from a gunrack in the dining room of his home. Johnson also observed that a number of .44 caliber shells were missing.

Johnson picked up a shotgun and started to look for the youth thinking that the boy had the wrong type of ammunition for the rifle. The youth, however, made one of the .44 caliber

Building Collapses, On Shoppers, Clerks

PARKERSBURG, W.Va. (AP)—A four-story brick building in downtown Parkersburg collapsed shortly before noon today, trapping an undetermined number of shoppers and clerks.

There was no immediate report of fatalities.

"It's a catastrophe," said a Parkersburg policeman handling emergency calls.

The outside of the building was being renovated when the collapse occurred. Workmen were on scaffolding in front of the structure.

Post Office Returns Lost Wallet and $205

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The United States Post Office has returned Albert Washington's wallet to him, with the $205 in cash he had in it, but it wasn't simple.

Soon after Washington lost the wallet in January, with the $205 in a secret compartment, it reached the post office via a mail box.

They mailed it to his Oakland address with 18 cents postage due, but he had moved and left no forwarding address. So it went back to the post office.

After the required 60 days, workers stripped the wallet according to regulations and found the money. Postal officer Matt Higgins hunted around Washington's old neighborhood until he found someone who knew of his new address, and delivered the wallet and the $205 to him here.

Higgins didn't even ask for the 18 cents postage due.

LBJ Quietly Piling Up Demo Votes

While Spotlight Has Been Focused On Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has been quietly piling up Democratic delegate votes while the political spotlight focused on the Republican presidential nomination race. He already has more than half the number needed for his expected nomination.

The President now has 671 first-ballot votes stemming from primaries, state convention actions or personally stated preference, an Associated Press survey showed today.

This is about 58 per cent of the 1,158½ votes required for the nomination at the Democratic convention in Atlantic City in August.

There has been little doubt that Johnson—although he has not yet announced his candidacy—will win the nomination on the first ballot, perhaps by acclamation.

The only avowed candidate, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, has 38 first-ballot votes—all from Alabama. He might draw scattered support from other Southern delegations which so far have listed themselves as uncommitted. These include South Carolina and Louisiana. The Mississippi delegation has not been chosen yet.

Unlike the Republicans, who follow a one-man, one-vote policy, the Democrats will have many more delegates than the 2,316 votes authorized for their convention. Some delegates will have one-half of a vote and in a few cases they'll have one-third of a vote.

Greek Force Placed On Alert Again

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greek armed forces have been placed on the alert again amid new fears that Turkey is about to stage its long-threatened invasion of Cyprus.

"We are on the eve of an outbreak of war," said a high Greek government source.

The invasion port of Iskenderun in southeast Turkey, home base of the Turkish standby force, reported no unusual activity. Reports Monday night said officers of the force were attending a party at the army club.

Both Greece and the Greek Cypriot government of Cyprus ordered an alert over the weekend, but pressure from the United States was said to have averted any Turkish move.

The Greek government source said the new alert was ordered after information was received that "Turkey is prepared to invade the island of Cyprus tonight or early tomorrow."

Writes Jury Trial Clause Into Civil Rights Measure

Search For Jet Pilot Continuing

Despite Reports He Was Captured By Pathet Lao

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—U.S. Embassy spokesman said today search for a U.S. pilot shot down Saturday over Communist territory is continuing despite reports that he has been captured by the Red Pathet Lao.

The spokesman said there is nothing conclusive about the reports but admitted the pilot was not sighted by rescue planes on Monday and hopes for his recovery fade with each day.

The spokesman said the downed flier had been spotted over the weekend but heavy Communist ground fire prevented helicopters from picking him up.

Unofficial reports earlier had said at least two and possibly five rescue craft were shot up during the first two days of search operations.

British and other diplomats expect to get word of the pilot's fate when they fly to Khang Khay on Wednesday for talks with Prince Souphanouvong, head of the Pathet Lao.

Reliable sources said the Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay informed its officials in Vientiane of the capture of Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, 30, of San Diego, Calif., who had parachuted from his Crusader jet fighter on Saturday.

Pathet Lao officials in Vientiane declined to confirm the report. An air search continued for Klusmann.

Try Walker Libel Suit Against AP

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Attorneys for former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker begin presenting evidence today in his $2-million libel suit against The Associated Press.

A jury of four women and eight men was selected Monday, clearing the way for presentation of evidence by the plaintiff. All 12 jurors must agree to any verdict returned to State District Court Judge Charles J. Murray in the civil suit.

The Associated Press, as defendant, will present its evidence after the plaintiff.

Walker, 54, contends Associated Press stories falsely accused him of leading a charge during the 1962 civil rights riot at the University of Mississippi, in Oxford, Miss. Walker's chief attorney, Clyde Watts, Oklahoma City, said in his opening statement that Walker did not lead any charge, and did not assume command of the riot crowd.

Move Seen As a Defeat For the Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate wrote a jury trial amendment into the civil rights bill today, then defeated a proposal to knock out provisions for government-financed training in how to handle school desegregation problems.

In the first votes on the bill in more than a month, a roll call of 51-48 approved a jury trial amendment offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky.

It would guarantee jury trials in all criminal contempt proceedings arising from the measure except in voting rights cases.

Next the Senate turned down a proposal by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, to eliminate three sections of the school desegregation title of the bill.

Under these sections, the U.S. Office of Education could arrange for and finance institutes to train school personnel in dealing with desegregation problems, could pay stipends to those attending the institutes, and could make grants to school boards to pay at least part of the cost of local training of personnel to handle desegregation problems and to help the boards hire specialists to advise on such problems.

The vote against this was 56 to 40.

The adoption of Morton's amendment was a defeat for administration forces but they believed it might help them get the Senate to adopt Wednesday a limitation on debate by swaying some Republican votes.

In advance of the test, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he is "cautiously optimistic" that the Senate will vote for cloture.

Mansfield made this report to President Johnson at the weekly White House breakfast of Democratic congressional leaders.

"We believe that reasonable men are now ready to vote," Mansfield said.

The jury trial amendment was offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and was supported by Southerners, who have been fighting the bill for 74 days.

It was the Senate's first vote in relation to the bill since May 6.

New Upsets Threatening In Brazil

Oust Kubitschek From Politics For Ten Years

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — New political turmoil threatened Brazil today because of the purge of Juscelino Kubitschek, banned from politics for 10 years to keep him from getting the presidency again.

President Humberto Castello Branco signed a decree ousting Kubitschek from his Senate seat and removing the political rights of the powerful political leader who had been the leading contender for the presidency in October 1965.

The suave former society surgeon joined more than 200 persons whose political rights have been suspended since President Joao Goulart and his leftist regime were overthrown April 1. Former Presidents Goulart and Janio Quadros, who resigned in August 1961, also have lost political rights.

"My enemies fear me because they are afraid of the manifestation of the people," said Kubitschek, "and thus with this brutal act they (the government) remove me from the road of elections—which are the only valid manifestation in a truly democratic regime."

The ouster could prompt Kubitschek's Social Democratic party, largest in Brazil, to withdraw support from Castello Branco's government. A party spokesman said party leaders would meet to decide on a course of action.

Several thousand supporters massed outside Kubitschek's apartment house in Rio Monday night, singing the national anthem and cheering the former president. They carried him through the streets on their shoulders.

A clash threatened when followers of Kubitschek's old foe Carlos Lacerda, governor of Guanabara State and a rival presidential candidate, arrived and began jeering. They dispersed when the Kubitschek crowd continued to grow.

Conviction In Bizarre Deceit Case

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Lola Lorene Perkins was properly convicted and sentenced to seven years in prison for her part in a case that was intricate and bizarre beyond description," the Missouri Supreme Court said Monday.

She and her husband were charged with stealing $79,661 by deceit from Robert N. Amacker, a well-to-do Providence, La., planter. He claimed he and his Hollywood Land Co. were bilked of $267,800 altogether. Mrs. Perkins was tried separately.

She was "Supreme Ruler of the United Rock of Charity" and pretended to be the executrix of a large estate. On the strength of the will's provisions, the court found, she borrowed large sums of money from Amacker, bought Cadillacs and other cars on credit and conducted a busy financial operation.

But the Supreme Court said the will was forged five years after the death of Magnolia J. Ward and at the time of her death Magnolia was so poor her friends took up a collection to pay burial costs.

The newspaper report said about 50 B57s are assigned to the U.S. Air Force's 3rd Bomb Wing, stationed temporarily at Clark.

Jets Changing Reconnaissance Pattern In Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Navy jets were reported today to be changing reconnaissance patterns in Laos to foil Communist antiaircraft guns which have downed two carrier-based jets.

The changes were believed to involve varying angles of approach, timing, formations and possibly altitudes.

There was a possibility the Navy might put in more jet fighters to guard the unarmed photo planes.

If Communist guns knock down any more U.S. jets, the photo planes might have to operate at a somewhat higher altitude.

The Navy has been handling low-level reconnaissance over Laos, while the Air Force has been operating its photo planes at a higher altitude, sources said. The two services have about split the total volume of reconnaissance work.

shells work in the weapon and fired a shot at Johnson.

Johnson told Deputy Couts he made no attempt to wound the boy seriously, but rather tried to "sprinkle" him with buckshot.

Couts took the youth to Bothwell Hospital where examination by Dr. Stanley Fisher revealed three pellets had struck him. One pellet which lodged in his hairline was removed. Fairfax said the other two pellets struck him in the left side of the hip and left forearm. All the wounds were minor.

The youth was questioned by Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz, Fairfax and Couts and Juvenile Officer Glenn.

The sheriff said the case was turned over to Glenn and juvenile charges were to be filed later in the day.

Fairfax pointed out it was fortunate for the youth the rifle did not injure himself when he fired the wrong type of ammunition through it.

Accidents

An expectant mother was not seriously injured in a collision of two automobiles on U. S. Highway 50 in front of the Massey-Ferguson Implement Co., about 3:30 p.m. Monday. She is Mrs. Glenn Powell, 19, of Hughesville, who received a bruised knee and a slight cut on the lower lip.

Edwin Oesterly, 63, Route 3, California, a passenger in the other car suffered an injury to his right arm, and was treated by Dr. Elliott Braverman, at his office. Oesterly was first taken to Bothwell Hospital by Trooper Pete Stohr of the State Highway Patrol and later to the doctor's office.

Mrs. Powell was taken to her home by her husband who witnessed the accident while sitting in a truck in front of the implement company, with Edward Schroeder, Route 2, Hughesville.

According to an investigation by Trooper Stohr, a 1963 Chevrolet driven by Gail Edwin Oesterly, 37, also of Route 3, was struck from the rear by a 1962 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Powell. Oesterly told Trooper Stohr he had stopped and was preparing to turn into the implement company, while a truck backed up and suddenly was struck from the rear.

The truck on the drive was that of Schroeder and Powell was with him.

Mrs. Powell's car was smashed in, doing extensive damage to the front end, while extensive damage resulted to the rear of the Oesterly vehicle. The Powell car was pulled onto the implement company lot by a tractor, while Oesterly's car was towed to Sedalia by the Park's Cities Service wrecker.

Mrs. Powell was taken to a doctor in a private car and then to her home.

Mrs. Josephine Kisor, 35, Columbus, Ohio, is in satisfactory condition following what was believed a heart attack while visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff N. Lewis, 1007 West Third Street. Mrs. Kisor with her husband Joe, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis.

About 6:05 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Kisor suffered the attack. The West Sedalia fire truck was called and the resuscitator was used to apply oxygen. She was later taken to the Bothwell Hospital in the Gillespie ambulance, where she received further treatment and later released.

She was treated by Dr. A. J. Campbell.

An International Harvester Loadstar 1600 tractor was demolished about 10:30 p.m. Monday when it crashed into a tree at 16th Street and State Fair Blvd. The driver and owner, Michael J. Voit, St. Cloud, Minn., escaped with an abrasion on the right knee, but otherwise appeared not to be injured.

Voit, owner of the large tractor, had it leased to the Barrett Mobile Homes, Moorehead, Minn., and tows large house trailers. It was reported he was headed for Missile Manor when the accident occurred.

The driver, who was alone in the cab of the tractor, was headed west on 16th and failed to make a brief jog in the highway, and went straight ahead, crossing the intersection of the State Fair Blvd., and went almost head-on into the tree.

The tractor, valued at $3,500 by the owner, was demolished. Walter Shoemaker's wrecker towed it away from the scene.

Circuit Court

Jane Ann Cross was granted a divorce in Circuit Court Monday from John Cross. Her maiden name of Jane Ann Jolly was also restored by the court. She was represented by William F. Brown.

The city filed condemnation petitions April 24 after attempts to negotiate a settlement for the three tracts proved unsuccessful.

Judge Frank W. Hayes ruled the three tracts are to be used for public use and are subject to condemnation.

Commissioners to appraise a 17½ acre tract owned by C. Emmett and Blanche Turner are E. H. McLaughlin, Clinton Mueller and Carl Oswald.

The same three commissioners are to appraise a 10½ acre tract owned by August Hamlett and August Hamlett, Jr. The commissioners report at 9:30 a.m. June 11 to take their oath and begin their appraisal.

Named as commissioners to appraise a 30-acre tract owned by Earl and Helen Thomas are E. H. McLaughlin, Larry Matthews and Oscar DeWolf. The court gave them alternate dates

New Police Program Is Explained

William Miller, Sedalia Police Chief, explained the new program under which the Sedalia Police Department is now operating, and improvements which the department would like to achieve under a long-range program, before the members of the Sedalia Rotary Club at their regular Monday noon meeting at Hotel Bothwell.

Since his appointment as police chief under the merit system, Miller with the aid of his assistant chief, Charles Knapp, has set up a departmental organizational system which defines the responsibilities of the men; inaugurated a local training for policemen and urged attendance at the Missouri Highway Patrol Police School at Rolla, and proposes the attendance of the FBI training school by Assistant Chief Knapp; requested adult civilians for school patrol at five highway crossings to relieve police officers for regular duty; set up a system for improved cooperation with other county and state law enforcement agencies; proposes new uniforms for the men of a material which would give better service and appearance than the traditional blue serge; asked for more adequate pay for department employees to boost and maintain department morale; proposes improvements to the police station facility over a two year period.

Chief Miller stated he has recommended the appointment of a policewoman to be available for secretarial work, for plain clothes duty in detecting shoplifting, and for assistance in processing women prisoners. He stated the city could use two additional patrol cars, a walkie-talkie radio system for quicker, more efficient police protection, a new motorcycle to replace the unsafe 1957 unit now in the department, and two trained police dogs.

Following Miller's talk, Harry Welch, club president, reported the Sedalia Civic Club Council members had discussed the purchase of two dogs as a project for the different organizations, and that the officers of the different civic clubs were presenting the project to their clubs for decision. Two trained police dogs would cost $1300, and if the different clubs accepted the project and do raise necessary funds, the dogs would be a gift to the Sedalia Police Department.

The speaker was introduced by Dave Routsong, June program chairman.

Guests presented by Robert Phillips were: Morton Tuttle, Boonville, Mo.; Rotarian; W. J. Stremcl, Ulysses, Kan.; Rotarian; and the Rev. Charles B. Cheffey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, a guest of Harry Naugel.

Dick Snow led in group singing with Mrs. Lillian Maynard at the piano. Rev. Cheffey gave the invocation.

Correction On Story Involving Price Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A consent order announced by the Federal Trade Commission May 28 involving a Missouri dairy and three supermarket chains did not constitute an admission of law violation by the companies.

The consent order covered an agreement to refrain from conspiring to fix prices for the purpose of destroying competition. It was signed by the Adams Dairy Co. of Blue Springs, Mo.; the Kroger Co., Cincinnati; Safeway Stores, Inc., Oakland, Calif., and the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., New York City.

The complaint alleged that the companies fixed prices and coerced competitors into maintaining the prices and that Adams guaranteed the chains a fixed profit margin on its products.

A May 28 Associated Press account of the action inadvertently omitted the negative and reported, inaccurately, that signing of the consent order constituted an admission of law violation.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Thanks for straightening me out. I always thought Winston Churchill and the late General Douglas MacArthur were great men, but after reading the column in which you O.K.'d the nutty theory that smoking to an adult is what a pacifier is to an infant I have changed my mind. According to your theory these men were actually grown-up babies.

The person who wrote said small children can suck their thumbs and drag a dirty blanket around but adults would be led off to the loony bin if they did such things, so smoking is their substitute.

It's difficult to understand how grown-up babies could become world leaders. Since you are so doggone smart I'd appreciate your explanation.

Thanks for reading this letter, which I'm sure will get no further than the wastebasket.—JHP OF RICHMOND.

Dear JHP: Mental capacity and leadership qualities do not equate with emotional stability. (Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, Castro.) Many leaders in the fields of science, art, medicine, and finance were, and are, brilliant thinkers, but at the personal level their lives were and are, a mess.

History is replete with examples of accomplished people who were so poorly adjusted that they eventually killed themselves with the help of a high win, a gun, a bottle or the gas pipe.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you printed a letter from a teenager who said she had a million freckles and hated every one of them. You told her about sandpaper surgery, warned against quacks and so on. Will you please print this letter and perhaps wake up some of these fools' kids?

What in the world is wrong with freckles? The lovely woman to whom I have been married for over 15 years has a million freckles and I love every one of them. In fact, her freckles are what attracted me when we met at an Epworth League picnic 20 years ago.

Freckles are part of a girl's personality. They give her that natural, sun-kissed look. Freckles are wholesome, out-doorish, frank and honest. Any girl who would bleach a freckle, attempt to cover it with heavy make-up or, heaven forbid, resort to surgery has rocks in her head.—VOICE OF DISSENT.

Dear Voice: Thanks for the greatest testimonial for freckles since Doris Day lugged her first million dollars to the bank. Several men (no women) wrote to express the same point of view, but you did it most convincingly.

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from the woman who was mad at her rich aunt who shopped in August for Christmas gifts and then ended up giving faded, shop-worn, marked-down "bargains" made me laugh. I have a friend who does something similar. It used to burn me up, but after reading that letter I see the humor in my own situation and feel a great deal better about it.

My friend is a grand dame of considerable means. She no longer drives her own car so I frequently take her to the beauty shop, to club meetings and to church. Every Christmas it's the same old story. With tears in her eyes she says, "I love you too dearly to insult you with a commercial gift. I want you to have something of sentimental value." She then hands me an old snuff box her grandfather used, or a piece of needlepoint that has been sitting around for 105 years. Everyone of her gifts has gone into the attic or the trash can.

Your column is a great deal more than entertainment. It helps people get a fresh perspective. Thank you for it.—AVID FAN.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jimmy Notes Bardot Has Sex Appeal

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The way Jimmy Stewart tells it, he was sitting at the feet of Brigitte Bardot as they had drinks in her Paris apartment.

The French beauty gave a toss of her blonde hair and smiled at him. "I simply love the kind of man who sits on the floor," she murmured.

And where was Mrs. Stewart at this time?

"Oh, she was sitting on the other side of Brigitte," the actor said. "It was a small room, and the floor was the only place I could find to sit. Me, a floor-sitter? I had never done it in my life before. It's too far for guys like me to get down there."

But Jimmy appreciated the compliment from B.B., and he has nothing but praise for her as an actress. He recently returned from filming a five-minute sequence with her in Paris for "Erasmus With Freckles," her first American film. She plays Brigitte Bardot.

"Man, she was great," said Stewart, who is not given to easy enthusiasm. "She was on time, she knew her lines, even though she is unfamiliar with English, and she delivered them with skill. And sexy! She's really got it."

"She has that quality that all the great ones had, and I'm thinking back to the days of Jean Harlow. They start with a great physical appeal, but they learn their business, too. They all turn out to be good actresses."

Henry Koster, who is directing and producing "Erasmus With Freckles," confirmed the French charmer's acting skill. "We had no trouble at all with her," he said. "We shot the 11 pages of dialogue in three days."

YOUR EYES AND VISUAL FUNCTIONS

Vacation days are near at hand and when preparations are being made to enjoy them to the fullest we must not overlook eyes and vision. The Missouri Optometric Association offers the following pertinent facts and suggestions:

If you have not had an examination lately you can hardly make a better start in preparing for your vacation than by having a careful analysis made of your vision and visual skills. Such foresight can easily pay handsome dividends in greater enjoyment, comfort and safety while you are away from your accustomed work and environment.

Vacations mean sudden change from indoor life to outdoor activities for many people. Sportsglasses, properly selected for your individual needs provide protections against glare and brightness. For those who wear glasses, it is well to know that your lens prescription can be provided in suitable tint, thus giving an emergency pair of glasses as well as affording comfortable vision not obtainable in ready made sunglasses.

Those fortunate enough to have long trips away from home should always take emergency glasses with them. Many vacations have been spoiled or interrupted by unexpected breakage or loss of glasses.

Finally, if you plan to drive, you owe it to yourself and to those you meet and pass on the road to be sure about your eyes and vision. Uncounted accidents result from the poor or inefficient vision of drivers who failed to have a careful visual check-up before taking to the road.

Consumer Calm Now Reassuring

NEW YORK (AP) — Most Americans go right along making up their own minds. This makes it pretty tough sometimes for the experts.

The American voter doesn't always cast his ballot the way pollsters say he's going to.

The American consumer does not always spend his money, or save it, or go into debt the way either the politicians or the economists say he is sure to do.

The American businessman doesn't always spend for new plants on cue, or tailor his borrowing to fit the money managers' manipulating of interest rates, or build up his inventories when he hears a boom is in the offing.

The stock trader doesn't always buy because he's told the economic news is all good, or sell because he's warned it might change.

All this may be rough on some of the experts and pollsters. But consumer calm has some good points. Right now it's pretty reassuring.

For instance, the federal income tax cut didn't spark the rush to spend which some politicians said would send the economy soaring. But neither did it trigger a boom that some experts warned would bring inflation.

Instead the consumers have gone on spending a little more as they have a little more to spend, saving a little more as their take home pay goes up a little, borrowing a little more as they figure they will be in a better position to meet the monthly payments.

Installment credit went up $412 million in April, but it had advanced even faster before the tax cut. Some savings institutions are reporting fewer deposits, but others are reporting gains.

Consumers paid off charge accounts and single-payment loans in March and then took on more of these items in April. Auto loans are increasing as sales mount, but other types of consumer debt aren't going up as fast as in January and February.

Trade Center In Europe Plan Of Hilary Bush

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—Establishment of a Missouri trade center in Europe is planned by Lt. Gov. Hilary Bush if he is elected governor, he said Monday night.

Bush, a candidate for the Democratic nomination, spoke before the Missouri Automobile Dealers Association, meeting here.

The overseas trade center, he said, would be operated by a section under the present state Division of Commerce and Industrial Development.

"Through its director," Bush proposed, "the trade center would develop and maintain contacts with European importers and other businessmen and act as liaison between them and Missouri businessmen, Missouri farmers and Missouri industrialists to search out and create new markets for Missouri products."

If Missouri is to get its fair share of increased trade, Bush said, "We must be aggressive, creative."

Fatty Foods Not Good for Heart

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody, not just overweight persons and those who've had heart disease, should eat less fatty food, the American Heart Association says.

The organization widened Monday its recommendation of three years ago because, it said, of mounting evidence of a relation between fat consumed, cholesterol in the blood and heart disease.

Transatlantic Trip For Atomic Vessel

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's first atom-powered merchant ship has sailed on its first transatlantic voyage.

The nuclear ship Savannah left Monday for Bremerhaven, Germany, with 289 tons of general cargo, 6,000 bags of mail and 13 paying passengers. She has accommodations for 60. Non-paying travelers and nuclear ship trainees filled the remaining berths.

The crossing is expected to take 10 days.

People In The News

HONG KONG (AP) — The Beatles spent all day today in their hotel rooms, available only to their tailors.

A hotel spokesman said members of the British rock 'n' roll quartet ordered 10 suits.

A mob of 3,000 screaming fans greeted the Beatles Monday at the airport, and the group got to the hotel only with the help of a police escort. They will play two performances here today, then leave for Australia.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI, in one of the bluntest speeches of his year-old reign, has told Italian industrialists the materialistic concepts of early capitalism must be overcome in the interest of a "more peaceful, more brotherly society."

Vatican sources said the Pope was speaking against efforts to misuse religion to discourage legitimate labor protests.

In his speech to the Congress of Christian Industrialists and Business Managers Monday, Pope Paul blamed Communists and those who prize wealth above all else for many of society's ills.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Quote of the day: Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in a speech to students at a Los Angeles high school: "Don't quit school for a temporary job because that's just what it is."

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials begin testifying before the Warren Commission today about the travels and activities of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy.

The commission obtained written reports from the State Department some time ago but now wants to get first-hand accounts from those who dealt with Oswald or handled various questions within the department concerning his travels and Communist associations.

The commission hopes to complete its report by the end of this month.

No decisions were reached pending further discussions on how the pool would operate, how returns would be gathered and distributed and what the cost would be.

The networks said the discussions were continuing.

Attending from Sedalia were Mrs. Marjorie Garanson, state vice-president, who was on the program; Mrs. Lily Thomas, president of the local club; Mrs. Mary Kay Hunter, program chairman and Mrs. Vivian Warren, treasurer.

Mrs. Garanson, who is state membership chairman, talked on membership and stated that her goal was to organize 20 new clubs during the year, with certain assignments of towns in the area of each club to be contacted for the purpose of organization. He is currently a Trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society.

'Hootenanny' Dropped By ABC Network

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Although the three major television networks have been proclaiming for some time that their fall schedules were "locked up," somebody at ABC has kept the key.

In a sudden change of plans Monday, ABC announced it would drop its Saturday evening "Hootenanny" folk - song program and replace it with "The Outer Limits," a science fiction drama series that has done pretty well this season.

The move undoubtedly is popular with the "Outer Limits" people, because it had been pitted next season opposite both "The Beverly Hillbillies" and "The Dick Van Dyke Show." Two CBS programs which are among the most popular shows on the channels.

Into that tough Wednesday evening spot dominated by the CBS comedy shows, ABC has placed a new musical show — designed primarily to appeal to teen-agers — called "Shindig," followed by "Mickey," a situation comedy starring Mickey Rooney, pulled out of its Friday night lineup. Mickey's replacement will be a comedy series called "Valentine's Day," starring Tony Franciosa.

The shifts do little to change the general complexion of next season's Saturday night programming. "Outer Limits" at 7:30 p.m. (Eastern time) has a strong appeal to the young audience as does NBC's pair of new comedy shows at the same time: "Flipper," which has a domesticated dolphin for a star, followed by a cartoon series about croak-voiced Mr. Magoo. That will leave adults of all ages in the great audience with a choice between Jackie Gleason's variety hour, a good book or a night on the town.

The really good news today is that at long last CBS' Ed Sullivan Show has finally concluded its bookings of British rock 'n' roll groups, although the situation makes one wonder how those teen - age female screamers in his studio audiences will now spend their Sunday evenings.

Non-Stop Flight Is Turned Down by CAB

WASHINGTON (AP)—An application by Ozark Air Lines for authority to operate nonstop between Springfield and Kansas City was denied Monday by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Ozark is now serving the two Missouri cities on different routes. Flights between them also stop at Jefferson City and Columbia, Mo.

The CAB said it believes Ozark is "overly optimistic" in estimating a 100 per cent increase in its traffic if allowed to introduce the nonstop service.

Rocky Won't Sign Name to Two Books

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was picking his way through autograph seekers in a hotel lobby when a woman thrust two books at him for his signature.

"That's a pretty tough choice," the governor said Monday as he stared a moment at the books — "Six Crises" by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and "Profiles in Courage" by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Instead of signing the books, the governor scrawled "Rocky" on a department store bag and gave it to the woman. Rockefeller is here for the 56th annual National Governors Conference.

Court Action Expected On Cape Picketing

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Court action was expected today in an effort to halt picketing which has stopped almost all construction at this space facility.

The Brotherhood of Maintenance Way Employees, one of 11 non-operating unions on strike against the Florida East Coast Railroad since Jan. 23, 1963, set up picket lines Monday to protest use of Florida East Coast rails to supply major contractors on the cape.

Honoring these lines, 3,445 of the 4,541 building trades workers left their jobs. Work was virtually stopped on the $100-million Saturn moon rocket complex, the Titan 3 project and the Kennedy Space Center headquarters.

A space agency spokesman said representatives of the National Labor Relations Board would confer today with a U.S. District Court judge at nearby Orlando. The court had ordered the rail unions to serve notice before picketing the space facility. The spokesman said no notice was given Monday.

Father Forces Son to Shoot Him With Pistol

LOS ANGELES (AP)—In the climax to a series of bitter quarrels, Leonard Thierry's wife left him.

Police said that Thierry then awakened his three small children.

He showed Theresa, 7, a pistol and told her to shoot him. She refused.

He told Gary, 5, how to work the pistol and told him to shoot. He refused.

Then he put the pistol in the hands of Glen, 4. He, too, refused.

Thierry told him if he didn't, he'd "get the leather strap."

Glen pulled the trigger. Thierry, a 32-year-old baker, was taken to General Hospital in critical condition Monday morning, a bullet in his brain.

"I had to do it," said Glen. "He told me he'd get the belt and spank me if I didn't."

Police said Thierry and his wife, Mary, 26, had had many arguments in their eight years of marriage. Officers located her in the neighborhood and turned the children over to her care.

1st Graders Publish A Story Book

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a new book on the market today at the University of Chicago, but the 26 authors will have a problem signing the first editions.

The authors, first graders, are still learning how to print their names.

The 26 precocious members of Mrs. Judy Jones' first-grade class at the university's laboratory school decided in November that along with learning to read books, they'd like to write and publish one.

After seven months of almost daily work, 150 copies of the gaily colored, magazine-size book, entitled "Interesting Stories," rolled off the press two weeks ago.

Proud parents snapped them up. The book is now headed for a second printing.

"All schools and classrooms are concerned with writing and reading stories," said Mrs. Jones, 27. "We just took ours a little farther."

The students collaborated in writing and illustrating five stories for the book, ranging from "Julie and Jane's Adventures in School" to "How We Got Our Freedom."

Another story tells of the adventures of Sammy, who lived on the moon "in a big crater that they had made tunnels through."

The stories were dictated to Mrs. Jones, who said the idea behind the book came from Mrs. Farrand Ennis, whose daughter is in the class.

"The purpose of the project was to expose the children to the experience of learning how books are produced," said Mrs. Ennis, who works for a neighborhood newspaper, the Hyde Park Herald.

Mrs. Ennis told Don McCabe, design editor of the newspaper, of the project and he volunteered to help ready the book for publication.

But if life seems complicated for McCabe, author Sarah Ennis, 6, takes it in stride. "It's just make believe," she told The Associated Press. "The whole thing's just make believe."

Author Jeff Johnston, 7, said what he liked best was "when I was asked to put autographs in the books."

Sedalia Rose Society Holds Unanticipated Success Show

The 16th Annual Rose Show sponsored by the Sedalia Rose Society, staged in the Smith-Cotton High School Cafeteria, Saturday, June 6, 1964, by all usual standards of measuring a successful rose show, was an unanticipated success.

The outstanding feature of the Rose Show was the very large number of most outstanding exhibits in the Decorative Design division under the show theme title of "Rose Fair." Each of the classes bore subjects alluding to some feature of the State Fair. There were 52 entries in the 15 classes. The design winning the tri-color ribbon for the best display in the show was entered by Mrs. Wilford Acker, 800 East 24th, with her interpretation in the Class entitled "Sunday Morning."

The largest number of points winning in the artistic design division was won by Mrs. Lewis Smith, Ottumwa, which carried with it the winning of the traveling trophy of two silver candlestick holders. Mrs. Acker won the second place in the highest number of point winnings.

To encourage the growing of better roses the American Rose Society presents Gold, Silver and Bronze Certificates for the first, second and third best single hybrid tea roses respectively selected by rose show judges accredited by the American Rose Society; also for the first, second and third best single specimen spray of floribunda roses.

In the Hybrid Tea section, Odis Nowlin, 3104 Skyline Drive, received the Gold Certificate with his exhibit of the red rose, Chrysler Imperial; Wilson Harbit, 1804 West 18th won the Silver Certificate with his exhibit of the popular rose, Peace, and Wilford Acker, 800 East 24th Street, was awarded the Bronze Certificate on his exhibit of another popular red rose, Crimson Glory.

In the Floribunda Section, Wilford Acker, won the Gold Certificate on his exhibit of the red floribunda, Fire King; the Silver Certificate went to Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Brummet, 1401 East 14th, with their exhibit of the popular pink blend, Vogue; and the Bronze Certificate was awarded to Leonard T. Hoback, Windsor, Mo., on his exhibit of the delicate pink, Pink Rosette.

Other awards that were made at the close of the show was the presentation of the special trophies. The Sedalia Rose Society perpetual trophy — a silver pitcher, was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Brummet for the highest number of point winnings in the specimens classes. The Perry Strole Memorial Trophy for the best Peace rose in the show was awarded to Wilson Harbit. The De Wolf silver tray trophy for the best red rose in the show was awarded to Odis Nowlin. The Edna May Ferguson silver bowl trophy for the best three hybrid tea bloom, each of a different variety was awarded to Wilford Acker. The best collection of hybrid tea roses of four blooms, each of a different variety, a ceramic container, won by Wilford Acker; the best collection of four grandiflora roses each of a different variety, a ceramic container, won by Wilford Acker, and the best collection of floribunda roses, four sprays, each of a different variety, also was won by Wilford Acker.

In three artistic design classes with members of the Sedalia Rose Society only being eligible to compete, Mrs. Wilford Acker was awarded a potted rose plant, Granada — a 1964 All American Rose Selection — for her design interpretation of "On the Tan Bark;" also Mrs. Acker was award second place with her interpretation of "Refreshment Stand" with the potted rose, "Picture" and Mrs. Lewis Smith, the third place award with her interpretation of "The Art Exhibit" with a potted rose "McGredy's Sunset."

Reynolds and Sturdivant are from Oklahoma City but are in different districts.

Oklahomans are proud of their athletes' achievements and speak of the OU football team almost with reverence. They remember Reynolds' two no-hit games and his seasons as the star pitcher while the Yankees rolled to five world championships from 1949 through 1953.

They recall the Sooners' 47-game football winning streak under Wilkinson and the Oklahoma national championship teams in 1950, 1955 and 1956. And they still keep up with Sturdivant, who started his baseball career with the Yankees.

Oklahoma has produced many great athletes—the late Indian football immortal Jim Thorpe among the foremost.

Others have included pitcher Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants and Pepper Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals, the late football coach Steve Owen and such present day baseball stars as Mickey Mantle.

But only this year have any athletes shown much inclination to turn politician in a state where athletics is a strong part of the environment.

College Grads Justified In Brash Work Attitudes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is considerable criticisms of young college graduates today. It boils down to a belief that they come into the business world spoiled.

The general theory is that Joe College has the idea that the mere possession of a sheepskin with his name on it is an automatic passport to a cushy job and a lifetime of guaranteed security, if not downright ease.

Perhaps college graduates today are a bit too brash as they leave the campus for the more competitive world of industry. Perhaps they do tend to gravitate toward the giant corporations because they feel safer there in the shelter of bigness than fighting for dominance in smaller and riskier firms.

But it is easier to give good advice than it is to give good example.

What middle-aged man, looking back at his own experience, can knock a young college man with a specialized skill for signing up with a big corporation—if that corporation is offering him anywhere from up to $600 or more a month, to start?

The encouraging thing about young college graduates now is that they come out into a world which, by and large, has a place for them and wants them. If they are good in their fields, they can usually not only find a job—they can have their pick of several jobs.

This gives youth self-confidence, and there is nothing youth needs more.

How much more hopeful and assured they must feel than the youth of a generation ago.

Then the college student clung desperately to his alma mammy, and on graduation day he had to be thrown kicking and screaming into life. For the world then beyond the ivory tower was an economic jungle, where nobody seemed to want him and there was nothing for him to do.

A great depression gripped the land, and the fearful young fellow found no industrial talent scouts standing in line to bid for his services.

Marriage was virtually impossible because he could find no job to support himself, let alone a wife and children.

Still vivid in my own memory is a fraternity bull session at the University of Missouri in the spring of 1932. Some of the graduating crop of that year were discussing how much of a guaranteed monthly income they'd settle for if they could sign up for it then and be sure of getting it the rest of their life.

Some held out for $250 a month. Most were willing to settle for $200. That's how panicky they were—and how hungry for security, any form of economic security.

We had to scrounge around and take whatever came along. In my own case, with two college degrees, the best I could do was to pass out handbills for my father that summer advertising bargains in his grocery store.

It took me three years after graduation to get a job that paid $100 a month; it was 11 years before I worked up to $400 a month, the figure many college men start at now.

Maybe Joe College, class of '64, is a bit brash and cocky about his prowess and his prospects. More power to him!

Certainly he is more independent, less cowardly, and more demanding of a better world than his frightened counterpart of only a generation ago. As the hope of tomorrow, he is better hope than we ever were in our fear-ridden day.

EDITORIALS

Names for Good Faith . . .

One of the departments of this page is "letters to the editor!" On the whole contributions received are sensible. These, when acceptable and signed with legitimate name and address, are published. Some that ought to be are not published because the author prefers anonymity by using a fictitious name; others are left out because of their slanderous subject matter, or other undesirable content.

Now here is part of one that should have been signed properly, so why the shyness: "When a student enters Smith-Cotton High school as an eighth-grader, it is with a feeling of awe and loneliness. To most of these youngsters there are three needs to be satisfied—the need to be accepted, liked and wanted. Much too often the answers to these needs cannot be found within the framework of their own class. They look to the upper classmen. But to be accepted by them you must be one of the crowd which too often involves taking dares such as smoking and drinking. This is the first step toward a youth becoming a menace to society. If a Junior High school existed here then a youngster as he entered would be associated with more of those his own age who set good examples of ideal conduct."

KANSAS CITY STAR: For the 1965 Session: a look at Insurance. — Insurance companies are on the edge of a vast market of potential policyholders. The baby boom that began in the 1940s and continued through the 1950s is filling the high schools and colleges and will swell the labor force. The same young persons will marry, have children and consider the advantages and security of insurance.

From 1927 to 1962, exactly 16 new insurance companies were formed in Missouri. Last year, alone, 11 new companies were organized. If existing state insurance laws are to be adjusted and other desirable ones added, the 1965 Legislature would seem to be the time to begin. There is, in fact, a feeling of urgency regarding insurance legislation.

As an interim committee on insurance has held hearings over the state, two recommendations consistently are heard: Missouri needs an agent qualification law and the State Division of Insurance should have more money to carry out its duties of supervision and investigation.

Of particular concern these days would appear to be the activities of certain of the so-called "founder," "booster," "charter" or "profit-sharing" companies. Their potential policyholders are painted a vision of practically free insurance and large dividends, if only they get in on the ground floor. The salesman explains that only a limited number of "charter" contracts will be offered. And it is implied that the purchaser is by way of being a stockholder who will share in big future dividends as a multitude of later policyholders join up. What really happens is that a part of the very high premiums involved are returned as overcharge, and this is called "a distribution of surplus."

Some agents know perfectly well what they are doing. Others, new to the business, do not, and probably give the sales pitch in good faith. But if Missouri had an agent qualification law, there would be no such doubt. In Kansas, an agent must pass a written test of 184 questions to sell life insurance, alone. If he fails, he can take the test again, but with each succeeding attempt, he is required to make a higher

Somalia: Center of Foreign Aid Battle

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson, now on a trip through the Middle East, today reports from Ethiopia.)

By DREW PEARSON

ASMARA, Ethiopia — The most phenomenal battle of foreign aid is now being waged for the control of a long strip of desert, bordering the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean, called Somalia. It's a land of camels and Nomads; palm trees and banana plants; mosques and minarets; hate and politics.

The hate is directed at Christian Ethiopia to the West, and the politics is mixed up in the ambitions of the Red Chinese, the Russians, the Egyptians, and the United States, none of whom love each other but who, together, have contrived to pour $200,000,000 in foreign aid into this little country in a little over two years.

The republic of Somalia is only four years old. But in less than that time, its approximately 2,000,000 people have received more foreign aid than any other people on earth — $10 per head.

In contrast, the current dribbles of U.S. aid to Christian Ethiopia make us look like pikers.

Here is the roll call of gifts and credits in the race to give away money to Somalia: The Chinese have given $3,000,000 in cash plus $20,000,000 in credits.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The taxpayers of Pettis county will pay a levy of $2.16 on the $100 valuation, according to the tax rate decided upon by the county court, the same rate as last year. The county levy is 51 cents, the state fund rate 15 cents and the general road fund 15 cents. This is in addition to the $1.35 school levy, voted by the people. The city rate is 55 cents on the $100.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Teachers elected by the Sedalia Board of Education to fill vacancies were Miss Edith Couey and Miss Ruth Burford, who had been granted a year's leave of absence; and Miss Maurine Hieronymus, third assistant in mathematics in the high school.

— 1924 —

The Sedalia school census has been completed and filed with the county clerk in accordance with the law. The enumerators were: Miss Hattie Gold, Miss Mary Shortridge, W. P. Hauser and Ernest Holst. Persons of school age were 5,282 compared with 5,297 for 1923.

The November, 1933, dust storms of the Great Plains caused colored snow in New England, where 25 tons of dust per square mile was deposited.

score. In other words, anyone who qualifies would know insurance. He couldn't innocently sell questionable policies.

As for supervision by the division of insurance, the statutes of Missouri already prohibit representations that a prospective policyholder will receive special or favored treatment through the payment of dividends. They also forbid references to a policy as being an "investment" or "profit-sharing" plan. Of course, the superintendent of insurance cannot be expected to enforce laws without enough field agents and investigators to follow up complaints.

For hundreds of thousands of Missourians, insurance is a considerable item in their budgets, as well as a valued means of family protection. The state is obligated both to enact and enforce laws needed to preserve public faith in a very important segment of the economy.

The World Today

Johnson Has Started Election Drive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson acts like a man who can't wait for the 1964 presidential campaign to start. He actually has started, although it is not supposed to until after this summer's political conventions.

Johnson already has begun firing at complaints Republicans are making and seem sure to continue until Election Day, one way or another. More than that, he sounds as if he takes for granted that Sen. Barry Goldwater will be his opponent.

A speech last week was a direct answer to Goldwater's misgivings about American defenses. Monday he hit at another Goldwater complaint: that government is getting too big and endangering freedom.

There's a touch of the Republican campaign of 12 years ago when Dwight D. Eisenhower ran for the White House. Eisenhower himself got into the act Monday with one of his favorite themes of 1952: cut government spending.

At the Governors' Conference in Cleveland Monday, Eisenhower, who has been super-cautious about making any suggestions in the Republican presidential contest, urged a constitutional amendment requiring balanced budgets every two years.

Like Goldwater, he deplored bigness in government. But when he talks about cutting government spending he is in a prickly field where he had to eat his own words when he was president.

In 1952 he promised to reduce expenses to $60 billion yearly from what he said was then $80 billion, although actually it was $74 billion. But he hedged it a bit. He said he'd make the reduction "assuming the cold war gets no worse."

He also promised to balance the budget. He never got the budget down to $60 billion. In his last fiscal year it went up to $81.5 billion, highest in peacetime history, with a deficit of almost $4 billion.

He managed to balance the budget only three times in eight years. At the end of his second term the national debt was the highest in history. Both the debt and the budget went up further under President John F. Kennedy.

In the course of his talk to the governors, Eisenhower took a crack at Johnson's antiparty program. Johnson could not have known, when he prepared his own speech, what Eisenhower was going to say Monday.

But what he said, while undoubtedly aimed at Goldwater, answered Eisenhower, too, on the question of government bigness. Johnson said the nation need have no fear it was getting too big for the freedom-loving individual.

Goldwater has been playing his warning about bigness over and over like a record.

As long ago as 1960, in his book, "Conscience of a Conservative," Goldwater was saying: "How did our national government grow from a servant with sharply limited powers into a master with virtually unlimited powers? In part we were swindled."

"All too often we have put men in office who have suggested spending a little more on this a little more on that, who have proposed a new welfare program, who have thought of another variety of security."

"We have taken the bait, preferring to put off to another day the recapture of freedom and the restoration of our constitutional system."

Johnson said government neither subverts, undermines nor lessens freedom "through the Social Security System, or by bringing electricity to the farm . . . by controlling floods, by ending bank failures . . . by providing school lunches for our children."

Goldwater has toned down his statements about the Social Security System. He suggested putting it on a voluntary basis, although how it could then survive he never explained.

After he lost the New Hampshire primary in March his campaign manager there said he had pulled a major boner in advocating a voluntary Social Security System.

Since then Goldwater has been saying he simply wants to improve Social Security, not end it, by keeping the dollar sound.

The Global Viewpoint

Those Secret Agreements Of LBJ and Khrushchev

By LEON DENNEN

Newspaper Enterprise Analyst
WASHINGTON — Dean Rusk tries hard to convince our Western allies that the United States is not secretly negotiating with Moscow some major changes in East-West relations.

But NATO's ministerial council, which recently met in Holland, seems to take the assurances by the secretary of state with a grain of salt. And with good reason.

The fact is that President Johnson is continuing President Kennedy's policy of secret diplomacy.

The latest U. S. agreement with Moscow to reduce the production of fuel for nuclear weapons was reached as the direct result of a private correspondence between President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev.

This new American diplomatic accomplished fact confirmed for the Europeans President de Gaulle's hints that the United States might one day ignore the Atlantic alliance in an effort to reach an understanding with Russia.

The West Germans, who always fear a secret deal at the expense of German unity, were especially suspicious of Johnson-Khrushchev agreement.

Suspicion was voiced, among others, by "Die Welt," one of West Germany's leading newspapers. "Die Welt" saw the "private" U. S.-Russian agreement as another attempt to discard the principle of open diplomacy which often has been proclaimed a cardinal American policy.

America's allies "increasingly feel that international negotiations are becoming a private dialogue" between Washington and Moscow, the paper said.

To be sure, the Johnson-Khrushchev agreement is in itself of little significance. The President and the Soviet premier made it clear that the U. S. and Russia already have enough processed uranium and plutonium for the production of new nuclear weapons.

Nevertheless, it is the view of specialists on communism that the agreement will strengthen the illusion that the United States and Russia have made a further substantial step toward genuine disarmament. But, of course, the Johnson administration did not receive from Moscow the right to check on the spot how faithfully the Russians will carry out the new agreement.

Is this, then, an indication that President Johnson now trusts Khrushchev to a point where he is ready to abandon the principle of on-the-spot inspection and control of disarmament?

Americans are not likely to find the answer until they know the nature of the Johnson-Khrushchev correspondence. Just as they will not know what concessions, if any, Russia made to the United States for lifting the blockade of Castro's Cuba until historians examine the letters between Kennedy and Khrushchev.

However, this much is certain: secret diplomacy, though necessary in great emergencies, is a risky policy for a free and open society like the United States. For who is to determine where legitimate secrecy ends and legitimate public knowledge begins?

In foreign affairs, as in domestic, it is important that a democratic government should not center too exclusively on the personality of one man, the president, even if he is a shrewd and seasoned politician.

The risk of secret diplomacy is vastly greater when the other party to the negotiations is a Red dictatorship which regards all treaties with "capitalist" countries as scraps of paper never to be honored.

Dialogue from Washington

Now, we have had it. A taste of the politics to come this summer.

That Barry Goldwater - Nelson Rockefeller battle in California was exhausting for everybody concerned.

Those two contenders for the Republican presidential nomination spent over $4 million dollars. Think of it — $4 million for balloons, stickers, TV time, spot announcements and the whole hoopla of campaigning. Barry Goldwater really used TV: he saturated the California coast — sometimes on six or seven occasions per day.

What does it all add up to?

Switch back to Connecticut Avenue in Washington, D. C., where the Rockefeller headquarters (an outpost office, main headquarters are in New York) is directly across the street from the Goldwater boys. This correspondent visited both places, today, to see how things are going. At Goldwater headquarters, they were dispensing Goldwater buttons and smiling wearily. It had been an all-night vigil and then a trek out to Dulles airport to greet the returning and victorious hero, Barry, who came home and plopped into bed and then, so they tell us, went to the dentist.

This homely little bit of dental care may or may not finally have taken place. Yet, it was typical of Barry Goldwater. He had a dental appointment and if his teeth needed cleaning or fixing, it was going to get done.

More Room On Clothesline

by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — My hint is so simple but it took me years to discover it. When I must hang clothes to dry in the basement, I often have needed more line than I had. At long last, I found that by pinning the garments to wire coat hangers with snap clothes pins and hanging the hangers on the line, I can accommodate many times the number of garments I could otherwise find room for on the same line. — MRS. J. V. M.

DEAR POLLY — We have a new dishwasher. Now I hate to waste soap by mixing it with water in the sink to wash off counter tops, etc. To solve the problem I bought a spray top and put it on a jar with a fixed solution of soap and water. Now I spray this on my cloth, wipe the counters off in a jiffy without wasting soap.—MRS. R. W. M.

GIRLS—I just recently discovered that when liquid detergent bottles make that squishing sound and seem empty there is still some good detergent lurking inside. Unscrew the top, fill about ¾ full of water, rescrow the top and you can still get enough sudsy liquid to wash dishes a time or two or wipe the counter several times.—POLLY

Thomas Still Active As A Socialist

NEW YORK (AP) —Norman Thomas, the old Socialist, says that the only people who practice free enterprise these days are "small boys playing marbles for keeps."

Thomas, 79, has seen government adopt many of the Socialist programs he fought for in six campaigns for the presidency. He says his chief regret is that he won't leave behind a Socialist party with real force in American politics.

Talking about his long career and his ideas for the future, Thomas says, "I've been lucky. No long jail terms, no long illnesses. I've been arrested several times, but I usually won."

"If I had it to do over, I wouldn't do many things differently. I'd do them better."

Thomas was interviewed in the small Manhattan office where he works five days a week. The sign on the door says "Post War World Council," one of dozens of councils, committees and leagues for which he works without pay.

In the lapel of his brown suit was the Order of Solidarity, which the Italian government recently awarded him for his opposition to Mussolini after World War I.

Although slowed down a bit by arthritis and other infirmities of age, Thomas writes two columns a week for the Denver (Colo.) Post, and lectures frequently throughout the country.

He says he could live on his lecture fees, but money left by his wife, who died in 1947, makes things easier for him. "I personally own something to a system I don't like," he said.

Thomas lives in a hotel room with a kitchenette near his office, and visits a daughter's family on Long Island as often as he can on weekends. He has five children, 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Thomas said he was "happily surprised" with President Johnson's performance, but that Johnson's war on poverty can't be won with his present investment.

In the future, Thomas said, abundance, not poverty, will be the big problem. Automation, he believes, will produce plenty without everybody working — a problem neither Karl Marx nor Adam Smith thought of.

"We'll come to a time when you get a grant for being born an American," he predicted. "We'll need re-education. Of course, if we get that society, the people who make and program the machines will be the elite."

Thomas has no plans for more world travel because "it's too much embarrassment to drop dead abroad."

"I keep hoping I'll drop dead though," he said. "Not immediately, you understand. I just don't want people saying, 'That poor old man.'"

Chiropractic Group Vetoes Expulsion

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Missouri Chiropractic Association has refused to expel a member who charged that many chiropractors were illegally invading the field of medical doctors.

Dr. Vernon H. Grogan of Fulton, a member of the five-man state Board of Chiropractic Examiners, made the charge Saturday in a speech at a joint convention of the association and the Missouri Chiropractic Society.

"Many chiropractors are attempting to enter the medical field of practice by the illegal and unethical use of vitamins, food supplements and therapeutic devices," Dr. Grogan said.

Dr. Grogan said he was "happily surprised" with President Johnson's performance, but that Johnson's war on poverty can't be won with his present investment.

The association, after heated discussion in a closed session Sunday, voted 57 to 25 against expelling him.

Dr. Grogan first made his criticism public April 27 in the Fulton Daily Sun-Gazette. He said the other four board members asked him to resign May 12 but he refused.

He told the convention that medical preparations and therapeutic devices are worthless and dangerous in the hands of those untrained in their use.

"Chiropractors cannot use heat, light, air, water or electrical and mechanical devices in treatment," Dr. Grogan said.

He estimated that 150 chiropractors in the state are encroaching on medical practice.

Dr. W. W. DeVore of Ironton, public relations chairman, said the vote against expulsion showed the association felt Dr. Grogan's views "were not too far off base, although we keep an open mind regarding changes in the techniques of chiropractic."

The association has 221 members, and the Missouri Chiropractic Society, founded 11 years ago, has 63 members.

The two groups met jointly to consider a merger, but the association voted against it, apparently as a result of the Grogan issue.

Dr. L. L. Talley of Neosho was installed as president of the association, succeeding Dr. W. E. Mickey of Poplar Bluff.

The Society elected Dr. Charles Klingensmith of Fulton to succeed his father, Dr. Charles Klingensmith of Trenton, as president.

The Association's Man of the Year award went to Dr. Vernon Breedlove of Camdenton, who has practiced 41 years.

Miss Sandra Mullen, 19, of Kirkwood was chosen to represent the state in the national Good Posture Queen contest in Denver July 1.

The Business World Analysts Think Market Is Adjusting Past Excesses

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is the stock market playing its supposed function of barometer? Is it forecasting a slowdown in the economy in the next few months by bidding down prices now? Or is it just adjusting some past excesses and getting prices of specific stocks in better line with actualities and company prospects?

At the moment market analysts lean to the adjustment theory. They don't think the market is troubled by fears of a general business slowdown or worse.

Some industries anticipate their traditional summer slack period but this time perhaps less sharp than usual. Most are still confident, in public utterances at least, that the fall pickup will be better than usual.

Stock traders in their current show of caution, if that's what it is, comes after a period of exuberance earlier this year has been matched by most businessmen and consumers.

The upward pace of the economy has been encouraging, but not as fast as many had expected. The upswing has entered its 40th month with signs neither of tiring nor of getting over confident.

It will have to climb considerably faster this fall if the year as a whole is to reach the heights that some predicted for it last January.

Industrial production, employment and personal income all have been rising, with particularly notable spurts in April and May.

In production the stars have been autos and steel, with construction also turning in a good performance.

Next month, car plants will be changing over to new models. Steel mills will feel the usual effect of summer vacations closing the plants of some of their best customers.

Employment made an impressive advance in May. And the number of jobless fell. The percentage of jobless to the total labor force dropped to lowest figure in more than four years.

That is, it did for about all classes except teen-agers. June will see a great outpouring of students into the labor market, some looking for summer work, some for permanent employment. The teen-age unemployment problem is likely to get worse before it gets better.

Many economists think that the effects of the federal income tax cut are yet to be felt. A few think it will give less of a boost to the economy than it was supposed to.

The stock market seems almost alone in flying a warning flag, if that is what it's doing. More likely, perhaps, it is merely taking profits on past price increases, adjusting its thinking about certain companies, consolidating to be ready for whatever the autumn has in store.

Albert J. Du Bois, executive director of the American Church Union, a voluntary association of Episcopal clergy and laity, questioned whether the president is eligible to receive communion.

He is, said the rector of St. Mark's, the Rev. William M. Baxter, and the Episcopal bishop of Washington, the Right Rev. William F. Creighton.

Of $25.7 billion loaned abroad by the U.S. government since World War II, the foreign recipients have paid back $10 billion on the principal so far plus $4 billion in interest, Commerce Department statistics showed Sunday.

Campaigns Against Khrushchev's Visit

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A group describing itself as the June Committee has begun a campaign against Soviet Premier Khrushchev's visit later this month.

The committee describes the impending visit as a "violation of Swedish freedom" and says it will send an open letter to Khrushchev asking "what practical purposes he thinks will be achieved with his visit that costs the Swedish people $800,000?"

The committee also says it will hold nationwide protest meetings but plans no violence. Its chairman is Birger Nerman, a prominent Swedish historian.

A similar group five years ago protested a scheduled visit by Khrushchev and the trip was canceled.

Nearly Has No-Hitter

100th Victory for Koufax As He Stymies Cincy 2-1

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander who makes a habit of being stingy with base hits, took a swipe at a second straight no-hitter Monday night and for four innings of a 2-1 Dodger victory over Cincinnati, he had statisticians scrambling for their record books.

Koufax retired the first 12 Reds he faced but No. 13, Deron Johnson, broke the spell with a home run. With the pressure off, Koufax gave up three more hits en route to his 100th career victory.

Sandy, whose third no-hitter came against Philadelphia last week, scored the tying run in the fifth when he forced Dick Tracawski who had walked, moved up on Maury Wills' single and scored on Willie Davis' hit.

John Roseboro doubled home Tommy Davis with two out in the sixth to win it.

The only pitcher ever to put together back-to-back no-hitters was Johnny VanderMeer, who did it in 1938.

And, interestingly, VanderMeer hurled for the Reds and pitched his second no-hitter against the Dodgers.

Elsewhere in Monday's abbreviated major league schedule, Milwaukee whipped Houston 5-3 as Hank Aaron tagged a two-run homer. Cleveland's Leon Wagner took the major league RBI lead with a two-run homer and a run-producing single as the Indians topped Los Angeles 6-3. Jim King smashed three home runs but Washington bowed to Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit outslugged Minnesota 10-5.

The St. Louis at San Francisco National League afternoon game was rained out.

Koufax, bringing his record to 7-4 with his third consecutive victory, also was touched for a ninth-inning single by Johnson and two hits by Steve Boros. Boros beat out a bunt in the fifth and singled in the eighth.

Besides trying for a second straight no-hitter, Koufax also was trying to set a record by striking out 10 or more batters in a single game for the 55th time in his career. The record of 54 is shared by Bob Feller and Rube Waddell. Koufax, however, struck out only five.

Felipe Alou opened the Braves' first with a double. One out later, Aaron connected off Hal Brown, 1-6, and Milwaukee never trailed. Alou collected two doubles and Lee Maye also had two hits while Dave Roberts slammed two doubles and a single for the Colts.

Tony Cloninger, 4-5, got the victory but needed ninth-inning relief help when Houston pushed across two runs.

King's three-homer salvo and a pinch-hit homer by Don Zimmer all came with the bases empty. That left the Senators one run short.

The A's got a homer from Ed Charles in the first, then put it away with a four-run eighth-inning uprising. Rocky Colavito singled in two runs before George Alusk wrapped up the rally with a two-run homer. Moe Drabowsky got the victory, his first since April 25, and snapped a seven-game losing streak.

Wagner, who brought his RBI total to 46, and Bob Chance hit back-to-back homers in the eighth after singles by Jo Azcue and Dick Howser around a sacrifice had provided the tying

Sedalian Places In Track Meet

The first annual Mexico Jaycees and Mexico Ledger All-Star track meet held at Mexico, Mo., last weekend, turned out to be an overwhelming success. A Sedalia trackman, Tom Hasler, was the only Sedalian to place in the meet.

Hasler was second to the winner, Dan Mene, of Salisbury in the pole vault. Mene went over the bar at 12 foot, five inches, while Hasler cleared it at 12-2. Maurice Loehner, Jefferson City, placed third at 11-8; and Jerry Grant of Raytown tied for third place with Loehner. A number of others were unable to get into the standings.

Other area winners included Kenn Howard of California, first in high hurdles at 16.2. Howard also placed first in the low hurdles at 21.3.

Central Missouri Conference members who placed outside of Hasler were: Don DePew, third in the 220-yard dash; Wayne Jones, Columbia, third in 440-yard dash; Jim Mathney, Columbia, first and Charles Hinson, Mexico, second in the 880-yard run, only entries. Merlin Muhrer, Columbia, second in the mile run.

Bob Williams, Mexico, first in the high jump, 5-8. John Acton, Columbia, third in the discus; Howard Jackson, Hannibal, second in high hurdles; and John Lake, fourth in the low hurdles.

An interesting feature of the meet was the battle between Bill Evans of Eldon, and Jim Dye, of Fulton in the broad jump. Evans beat Dye previously in the school competition, and Dye entered the Mexico meet to get another crack at Evans only to lose. Evans jumped 22-2 while Dye's jump was 21-11 3/4. It was estimated there were in excess of 800 people at the meet.

Maine Drops Seton Hall In An Upset

OMAHA (AP)—Maine's sophomores, led by a coach who did not want a scouting report, provided the upset and Minnesota started in its customary election year style in the rain-shortened first round of the college baseball world series Monday.

Maine was playing most of the hitters to pull in its 5-1 victory that ended a 13-game Seton Hall winning streak. But Coach Jack Butterfield said he was planning with rookie Joe Ferris in mind.

"He is not overpowering but we knew if he got the ball over right they would pull," Butterfield said. "I didn't try for a scouting report because I don't always trust somebody else's judgment."

"It's better to not know anything than to clutter the kids' minds with information that isn't always true."

Ferris had a six-hitter, Dick De Varney and Carl Merrill, both sophomores, were the hitting heroes for the Yankee Conference champions.

Minnesota's Big Ten champs stopped Texas A&M 7-3 behind right-hander Joe Pollock with a 16-hit attack led by Ron Wojciak and Bill Davis. Coach Dick Siebert said, "I didn't even think about lifting Pollock when they tied it 3-3 in the seventh because he's my ace."

Minnesota won the championship in both its other NCAA tourney appearances in election years 1956 and 1960.

Southern Cal's defending NCAA champs were in front 3-1 with one out in the top of the fifth when the storm hit. The game will be resumed at that point tonight. Missouri and Arizona State will follow.

The regular Tuesday schedule was set back to Wednesday which means the title game in the double elimination tourney won't come until Saturday or possibly Sunday.

Tonight's first round session is one of the most attractive in the history of the 18th annual tourney as it matches the first four teams in the final poll of the nation's college baseball coaches.

Missouri, 23-3, finished first, Arizona State, 43-5, second, Mississippi, 24-5, third, and Southern Cal, 39-13, fourth.

USC used its ace, Walt Peterson, in the suspended game and will use Larry Fisher, 7-3, against Larry Higgenbotham, 5-0, of Ole Miss.

Missouri will start either Keith Weber, 9-1, or Jack Stroud, 7-1, against Skip Hancock, 12-1, of Arizona State.

All are right-handers but Stroud.

Arizona State will pit its .315 team batting mark against Missouri's phenomenal .085 earned run average.

Arizona State is miffed over losing the No. 1 spot to Missouri by a scant three points. Coach Bobby Winkles said, "We've won 11 straight since we were No. 2 at mid-season."

Missouri has a 22-game streak but Coach Hi Simmons moans,

Four-Event Card Slated For Convention Hall

Wrestling action returns to Convention Hall tonight, with a four-event program scheduled to get under way at 8:15.

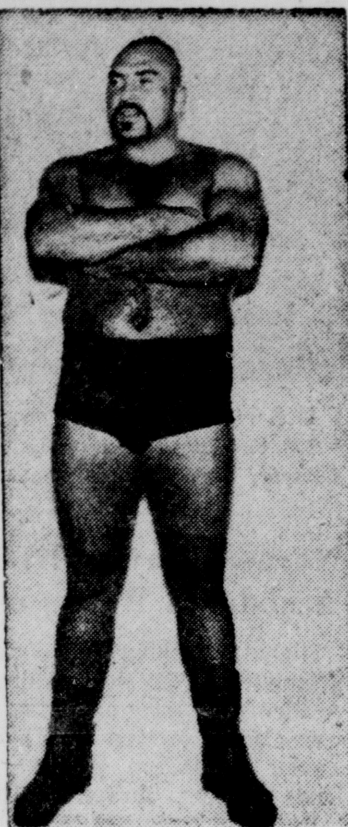

Bidding to become one of the top roughers in this section will be the cocky Iowa battler — Bob Geigel. In what promises to be a rough, hard-fought joust from start to finish, Geigel will take on the powerful Stomper, up to now one of the leading heavyweights on the area ring scene.

Because of his size — the Stomper weighs 270 pounds, the giant import has had things pretty much his own way. Geigel hopes to alter this and will be helped by the fact there will be no time limit, no disqualification.

The Stomper, who is as forceful as can be when on the offensive has proved elusive when it comes to taking punishment and the rules tonight will force him to keep at the task at hand. With that the case, Geigel is expected to carry the fight to the giant in hopes of tabbing an upset.

There'll also be team action, with another towering heavy-weight — the 6-6 Lawman — joining Lee Henning to battle Tokyo Tom and Baron Von Strauss.

Separate events match Von Strauss and the Lawman, Henning and the Japanese.

Adco, Brown's Win Again In Babe Ruth Play

Adco chalked up their third straight win and Brown's Supply gained their second in Babe Ruth League play Monday night at Centennial Park.

Ron Rees was the big gun at the plate as he went 2-for-3 and scored two runs to pace Adco's 8-0 win over Optimist in five innings.

Mike Kraxberger whizzed to his second shutout of the season in taking the mound victory. Mike Wingate was the loser.

Adco had five hits and no errors. Optimist had two hits and five errors. Adco and Optimist are American League clubs.

Brown's Supply slammed Western Auto 8-1 in the National League nightcap in a game called after six innings by the majority rule.

Terry Arnold held Western Auto to only two hits in gaining the pitching victory. Brown's pounded loser Jim Vinson for six hits.

John Bentley singled with two out in the fourth to score two men and help ice the game for Brown's. The contest was one of the first where errors were a major factor in the final score.

Brown's had three errors and Western Auto committed four.

Action tonight pits Machinist Local 1153 against Rotary in the American League in the opener and New Car Dealers versus Walker Publishing Company of the National League in the nightcap.

League officials announced season passes are still available and may be obtained by telephoning TA 6-2843.

Array of Golf Champions Try to Qualify for Open

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five former Open champions and a fellow who has won everything else but, try to qualify today for the U.S. Open Golf Championship at Washington, June 18-20.

The big show is at Detroit, where 82 players including most of the touring pros, shoot at 39 berths.

A total of 55 places will be up at four other sites in the sectional qualifying round.

Thirty-five golfers qualified Monday at eight courses. Among the successful players were Chick Harbert, former PGA champion, and tourists Bob Brue and Dean Refram. Colorful amateur Billy Joe Patton also made it, but he had to survive a sudden death extra hole.

Former PGA champion Paul Runyan and veteran Johnny Bulla were among those who failed to qualify. Western Amateur champion Steve Oppermann also missed, and former Open champion Jack Fleck—who beat Ben Hogan in a storied playoff—did not try.

Hogan will not attempt to qualify, either. The four-time winner does not approve of being asked to qualify, with his record.

Sam Snead, attempting to make it to the championship for the 24th consecutive time, is among the name players at Detroit. Others are former Open champions Bob Rosburg, Jim Ferrier and Jerry Barber.

Tour regulars Bob Goalby, Johnny Pott, Art Wall, Joe Campbell, Gay Brewer, Tommy Aaron, Bobby Nichols, Ken Venturi, Doug Sanders, Rex Baxter and Phil Rodgers will also shoot at Detroit.

At New York, the field includes former Open champion Cary Middlecoff and former PGA champions Doug Ford, Vic Hebert and Jim Turnesa.

Open champions Ed Furgol and Lew Worsham and PGA champion Denny Shute play at Pittsburgh. PGA champion Chandler Harper is at Washington.

The 129 survivors of the sectional qualifying join 21 exempt players, including defender Julius Boros and big guns Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Bill Bisdorf, a Denver pro, posted the best sectional qualifying round Monday, when he shot 67-66-133, nine-under par on the Rolling Hills course in Denver.

Merchants Will Meet Jefferson City Red At Liberty Park Tues.

The Sedalia Merchants play the Jefferson City Red Birds at 8 p. m. Tuesday at Liberty Park. With the Red Birds winning the first meeting 11-1 at Jefferson City, the Merchants behind the pitching of Skip Schulz and the hitting of Bill Hill came back to even the series with a 7-3 score. Tonight either lefty Boessner or fireball Bill Clarkston will hurl for the Red Birds.

The Merchants will counter with Bob Brown or lefty Jim Fall with Bill Hill catching.

Saturday night's game with Butler and Sunday afternoon's game with Warrensburg were both rained out.

The Merchants now have a record of four wins and three losses. Charley Newman, after a year's absence, has a five-game hitting string going for him with 11 hits in 21 times at bat.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

some are made

The rather handsome car above is what you might call a two-time winner. Dodge led the nation in percentage sales increase last year and continues to set and smash these lofty sales marks in 1964. It's also called a 1964 Dodge. Or the low-priced car that doesn't look like one or feel like one. People who have bought one, and who, incidentally, are trading in all kinds of other cars in record numbers, say they like: 1. The looks. 2. The roomy and rather posh interiors. 3. The extra savings of its famous Slant Six.

4. The lively V8 that goes on regular gas. 5. The self-adjusting brakes and 32,000-mile interval between major grease jobs. 6. The solid way it's put together—with a fully unitized, rust-protected body. 7. The price (right with Ford and Chevy).

If these seem like pretty good reasons for buying a car, join the swinging trend-setters who are changing the look and feel of the low-price field. You'll find them at your Dependable Dodge Dealer's.

Bonus Babies Ink Contracts With Finley

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Charles Finley has bought a Catfish for $75,000.

But then last week he paid the same amount for a Blue Moon. No, the owner of the Kansas City Athletics isn't about to spring some more gimmicks on the American League, he's merely indulging in baseball's battle of the dollar for the nation's top young prospects.

James (Catfish) Hunter, an 18-year-old pitcher from Hartford, N.C., was Finley's latest addition to his growing list of bonus babies. Last week, the A's signed another pitcher for a bonus in the $75,000 area, Johnny Lee (Blue Moon) Odum, a 19-year-old from Macon, Ga.

Hunter was one of nine hopefuls signed by major league clubs Monday as the tempo began to build toward the usual series of $100,000 signings that follow college graduations in June.

Hunter, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound right-hander, pitched five shut-outs in the past two seasons with the Perquimans County High School team. In one 12-inning game this spring he struck out 29 batters. He has an over-all record of 26-2.

At the same time, the Cleveland Indians paid a reported $60,000 for infielder Ralph Michael Gagliano of Memphis, 17-year-old brother of Phil Gagli-

Negligence Charge On Film Director

CHUR, Switzerland (AP)—The state prosecutor's office at Grison filed a charge of homicide by negligence Monday against German skier Willy Bogner Jr. in the avalanche deaths of Olympic ski stars Wallace (Bud) Werner and Barbi Henneberger last April 12.

Werner, of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Miss Henneberger, of Munich, were killed by an avalanche near St. Moritz during the shooting of a documentary film under Bogner's direction.

After a two-month investigation, Grison authorities alleged that Bogner was criminally negligent in allowing Werner and Miss Henneberger to ski across an avalanche-threatened slope despite official danger warnings.

Bogner at the time denied any prior knowledge of an avalanche warning.

Hutch Gets Checkup For a Chest Growth

SEATTLE (AP)—Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was given a checkup of a cancerous growth in his chest Monday and headed for Los Angeles today to join his team.

Just before the examination, he said the outcome of the examination would decide whether he could rejoin the Reds or had to stay in Seattle awhile.

He said he felt about the same as he did after receiving massive radiation treatment for six weeks early this year in Swedish Hospital's Tumor Institute in Seattle.

Dr. Orlliss Wildermuth, head of the Tumor Institute, said he considered Fred's examination a routine checkup.
